

We have put together a list of in demand COVID-19 products currently used to help prevent the spread of the virus in our communities. We have paid special attention to ensure that the below items adhere to the strict certification requirements set out by the relevant regulatory bodies for each product & where applicable.

These products are in high demand and supply is incredibly volatile, therefore stock cannot be booked or held with orders and payment. Please speak to our highly trained sales staff who will assist you and advise on the correct product requirements.
